Hamlin Community Responding Liberal To Flood Sufferers

Perhaps nothing has ever appealed to Hamlin people like those hundreds of thousands of people who are routed from their home by floods in the Ohio, and Mississippi areas. Now, for one full week Hamlin people have listened to that pitiful pleading of the Louisville radio station, asking for help, directing helpers and carrying on in a manner that will challenge the best in all people over the world.

The flood situation is beyond our imagination. Nothing like it has ever befell the United States before. The end is not in sight yet. Days and days and even weeks must pass ere we know what has been the cost in lives and property. Fire, deaths, births, exposure, hunger, sickness is bound to prevail among other thousands before the waters escape into the Gulf.

Hamlin money is going into the relief—EVERY PENNY through the National Red Cross, of which Hamlin and Anson make one Chapter. Below is a list of those so far contributing—OTHERS have an opportunity, maybe some will add to the amounts above listed—watch for reports next week. By nine A. M. Thursday the total was $308.48 in Hamlin, and here is the list:

We, the undersigned, hereby contribute the amounts opposite our names to the flood sufferers, through the Red Cross.

MAN KILLED IN EDGE OF ANSON

Last Friday morning about eleven o'clock, in the south edge of Anson, John Poe, age 77 years, was struck by a car and killed instantly.

Mrs. Richards, a county relief worker, was driving the car, loaded with groceries and materials for a needy family.

Mrs. Richards is a daughter of George Monroe, a farmer residing near Anson. She is a widow with four children. She is grief stricken at her home in Stamford. From what she is reported as saying, she could not be held criminally negligent. The man was walking, she relates, in the middle of the road and she was puzzled as to which way he would step to let her car by. The horn sounded and he jumped to the right, in front of the car.

Mr. Poe was the father of George Poe who resides east of Neinda, and had lived in this county a number of years.

Funeral services were conducted at the Anson Methodist Church on Saturday and interment in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

KEEP THE HERALD COMING TO YOU

This is the last week in January—next week is "Check-up" week. By that we mean, to make a final check over of the subscription list. This was not done one year ago, and therefore a FEW subscribers are behind with their subscription. If you are it is OUR fault, and you owe us for back time if you choose, but that is poor business and therefore next week we MUST check out and carry only those who "want the Herald." Don't blame the Herald, time passes with us like it does with our readers.

Let us thank all our subscribers—we have the best paid up list in the history of the Herald. So, if you are behind with your paper, don't miss the first issue in February.

McCAULEY MEN IN ANNUAL BANQUET

The McCauley community has a club known as a "Boosters," whose aim is to look after the interest of their community, especially from a civic and commercial point of view.

This club held its annual banquet this week at the McCauley Baptist Church on Tuesday night, with splendid attendance, including a number of out of town guests.

Garland Davis presided as president, and a very interesting program was carried out. The entertainment features were given by a quartet from Abilene. The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. Wilson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Vernon, Texas.

The business of the meeting was the election of officers for a new year. Garland Davis was again chosen as president, and Levi McCollum as Secretary-Treasurer. Instead of directors, the club functions with a "program committee," and this committee is composed of Rev. Hardesty, pastor of the McCauley Baptist Church, Ben F. Short and Sam Hardy. Mr. Hardy being retained in this place, although not in McCauley as he has been for the past 19 years.

McCAULEY EXPRESSES GRATITUDE TO MR. AND MRS. HARDY

One of the outstanding features of the evening were the several ways that the Club expressed itself on behalf of all the McCauley community, toward Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hardy, who have just terminated a period of 19 years with the McCauley people. L. E. Rector spoke impressively of the services Mr. Hardy had rendered the community as Cashier of their bank, as a citizen, manifesting his interest in everything for his community, as a Christian gentleman and neighbor, all in terms of deep affection for Mr. and Mrs. Hardy. On behalf of the women of the community, Mrs. B. E. Miers, paid tribute to Mrs. Hardy who has all along taken much interest in the church and social affairs of the McCauley community. Following these talks, an appropriate token was presented to the couple. It was a lovely electric table lamp—which is after years will be a constant reminder of the love the community holds for Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, for their lives among them.

Long time ties of interests and neighborliness are touching to the heart to sever, therefore it was hard for Mr. and Mrs. Hardy to fully express themselves in response to what had been said and done for them.

Those attending from Hamlin besides Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, were J. W. Ezell, Coy Fielder and Cecil Eivens, all from the F. & M. Bank. Mr. Eivens was merely attending a "home function" as he too had spent many years in McCauley as bookkeeper for the bank while it was there.

Mr. Ezell was called on for a talk and he expressed his interest in the success and welfare of the McCauley people, and again extended a welcome to come to Hamlin and feel at home in the Hamlin Farmers & Merchants Bank.

INFANT DIED

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Meeks are grieved and disappointed by the death of an infant daughter that was born about six o'clock Sunday morning and passed away about seven A. M. It only lived less than an hour.

A short funeral service was held in the home by Rev. Littleton and the Maples Funeral Home took charge of interment which was in East Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Temple of Lamesa, came down Tuesday to see their father, W. N. Temple, who has been confined to his bed for several months. Lately he has been suffering great pain.

Mrs. A. R. Elam has been very uneasy about her mother, who resides in flood stricken Louisville, Ky., but on Tuesday she received a message saying the family was safe and dry. This is an example of many anxious hearts over the nation.

MISS NICHOLSON WINS BEAUTY PRIZE

MISS SARA ELLA NICHOLSON

Last week Miss Sara Ella Nicholson, a beauty artist at the Wienke Beauty Shop of this city, attended, with Miss Wienke, a convention of Beauty Artists in El Paso.

While there a contest was held in hair styling, in which there were 28 contestants, from many sections of Texas, and from New Mexico and other places. Miss Sara Ella Nicholson entered this contest and selected a beautiful blonde girl of that city, Miss Evelyn Owens, as a model.

The contest covered the "individuality, originality and artistry" side of hair styling and in this Miss Nicholson won the grand prize. This was an outstanding honor sought for by many beauty artists of the state. The award can be seen at the Wienke Shop, and it is a lovely gold, shell-shaped, piece of art, enclosing a gold model of charm. Above the stand perches the outspread wings of "victory" eagle. The pedestal carries the appropriate engraved inscriptions.

Miss Nicholson has been with the Wienke Shop since her graduation from the Hamlin High School.

PROUD OF HIS GROCERY CLERKS

A. D. Ensey is proud of his increased force these days. The last few days he has added Kenneth Cowan from Anson, who has had three years in grocery salesmanship. Mr. Cowan is a married man and he and his wife reside in one of the W. W. Green residences on 8th street.

A few weeks ago came Mr. L. J. Cunningham, of Roby, another young married fellow. He is an experienced groceryman. He and his wife have apartments in the Colwell building. And right here may we say he is a brother-in-law of Eddie Jay. Going further back we find Bernard Meeks, the Market Man, from Amarillo, who came to Hamlin, with his wife, just about Christmas.

This story must include the "old reliable," Punch Via, the Hamlin grocery boy "with a smile." These FOUR boys do the work and A. D. just fidgets about—sometimes in—sometimes out—plays all over the field like he does at "second." Sure A. D. is married—the only attraction in this store is Punch, and the boys tell it on him, he's going to get married.

It is just too bad that there are so many young married men connected with A. D.'s store and not a baby in the whole bunch. These new fellows are having a time trying to locate where people live, to deliver groceries. Punch takes up most his time telling them who and where—sometimes has to tell 'em "what." This all comes about because Hamlin's streets and avenues are not "labelled."

Better keep an eye on these "A. D." guys—they are going places.

MERCHANTS Protecting Themselves: An article in a Pecos paper. It is very interesting. That thriving West Texas city of which a Hamlin boy, Ben Smith, is secretary of the chamber of commerce, recently delivered membership cards. On these cards were printed a pledged agreement "that they will not subscribe to any solicitor or donate to any purpose that has not secured the approval of the Chamber of Commerce."

ANOTHER THING—their merchants agreed several months ago to have all solicitors to have the approval of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, believing that this method will "weed out" a large per cent of "gyp" and fake advertising schemes and itinerant solicitors.

There is no person who realizes the value of the proper kind of advertising any more than a newspaperman. Also it is true that a newspaper man realizes many merchants dump their money into "fake" advertising schemes, not worth a nickel. There are frequent callers to get "just your name" on this card, this folder, this curtain, this fan, this and that, under the guise of "it will help." The thing it helps is the "promotor" who uses some good-looking popular girl to pull the merchants' pockets. The only standard to judge the effect of your advertising dollars is "who are where it is read." If 500 families read a merchant's ad and he gets no visible results then there is something wrong with the goods or the merchant—maybe the weather. What good is a quarter spent on a card that nobody sees or reads?

FLOODS, FLOODS—Nowhere in the history of the United States can anyone find flood records equal to anything like what the Ohio valley has been subjected to the past ten days or more.

All attention is still turned toward the river areas of Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Southern Illinois, Southern Missouri, Arkansas, and Western Tennessee. Never before has such a volume of water swelled the Ohio River, which for 950 miles has been pouring its mighty current into the great Mississippi. Indications are that Memphis will have a flood stage ten feet higher than the highest point in its history.

Untold suffering has been the experience of perhaps 500,000 people, and unestimated millions of dollars worth of property has been ruined, and the end is far from in sight as this, the second week, comes to a close.

The radio has played a wonderful part in saving people from death. The great stations at Louisville, Cincinnati, and Nashville, have been on the air almost constantly for the relief directions now going on two weeks. The Louisville station was put out of order by the lack of power Sunday night and sent its messages out by remote control through the Nashville station.

In the midst of all the disaster by water there came the hazard of fire. Great gasoline tanks and oil tanks were lifted from their moorings and emptied their contents on the water surface, and in several cities millions of dollars worth of property went up in flames, down to the edge of the water.

The story of the Ohio and Mississippi floods of 1937 will be related for a century to come. Just what the final chapter is to be not many can venture a guess. The aftermath of sickness and death from exposure is to be learned.

All over the country the people have rallied to give aid in whatever manner possible, in money, food, medicine, and clothing.

This unprecedented flood came about by an unusual string of weather conditions: Perhaps first from a great deal of rain, followed by a freeze of the ground and on top of that perhaps a sheet of ice, sleet and snow, followed by more great rains and warmer weather, resulting in quick thawing of the surface ice—and the lay of the hilly slopes of the western area of the Allegheny Mountains. The ordinary river channels were unable to contain the water thus accumulated.

DEATH?

After a lingering illness of acute loneliness the prayer meeting died, last week at its accustomed place. The pastor found it in a very low condition and remained with it to the end, when it died with sobs.

moans and groans, talking about the "good old days that used to be,"—it was a bad sight. . . .

Death was caused by serious neglect on the part of the church members, and unless the Lord raises it up again in answer to the prayers of the few shut-in saints, the funeral will take place next week.

The remains will be taken to the Judgment Bar of God where the Father, Son and Holy Ghost will hold an inquest and inquire into the real cause of the death having all the facts relative to the wicked neglect of those who forsook the prayer meeting, causing such a sad and untimely death.

Such persons will be punished severely, according to the penalty of God, found in the Bible, for it says in Psalm 9:7 "For the wicked shall be turned into hell, and the nations that forget God."

IS YOUR WIFE A SMARTER STARTER THAN YOU ARE?

You can settle that most fairly on your own home grounds after you both have your chance at these latest simple rules, which automotive authorities approve today:

First be sure the garage doors hold open against any Winter wind!... your protection from fumes

Before touching the starter or ignition switch, step on clutch pedal and keep it down

Open hand-throttle about one-third

Now pull choke out full (unless your car has automatic choke)

With ignition switch still off (except startix-type) operate your starter, until your engine has made 2 or 3 revolutions

While starter is turning, switch on the ignition, being ready to release starter so that it has no chance of retarding the engine after explosions begin!

People have asked whether the advice we are printing about correct Winter starting doesn't help all gasolines. Yes, but anything you can do with them doesn't bring them up to Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze. We are not afraid of that. Continental Oil Company

"Listen, Folks"

BY JIM FERGUSON

(Editor's Note: This article is Governor Allred did not say about published as a news item, and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only).

Many things have been taking place in Austin for the last three weeks. A great many people have been coming to the capital city beginning with the coming of the New Year. The legislature met on the 12th of the month, and the Senate completed its organization and the House elected Robert Calvert Speaker.

On Wednesday night the Travis County delegation of one Senator and two representatives, assisted by citizens of Austin, entertained the entire legislature, and their wives with a 240 plate banquet at the Driskill Hotel. Senator Brownlee acted as toastmaster. As the banquet was given as a get-together-get-acquainted affair, there was a spirit of fraternity and good will evident on every hand. Short speeches were made and the two best were made by Governor Allred and Coke Stevenson, former speaker of the House. Some day the people of Texas will see these two boys making a campaign against each other for the Senate, and when the thing comes off we are going to see the most entertaining display of political rap jacket that has taken place in a long time. They are real stump artists.

Attorney General William McCraw, known already to the boys from the forks of the creeks as "Bill Mergaw", pulled a new stunt. Instead of being sworn in by some obscure official in an office, Bill pulls off a real inauguration—some said it was an inauguration, while others say that won't take place for two years yet. But Bill had Judge Ben Looney of the Dallas Court of Appeals to come down and swear him in and he had Pat Neff to introduce him with an oration that but few can equal and none can surpass. I pronounce Governor Neff the most correct speaker Texas ever produced. So Bill had about a thousand people at his opening, and, believe me, he made a wonderful response to what appear to prefer to let the people pass on the question direct, thereby relieving them of the responsibility of deciding the issue which might result in many political hazards. It is argued that this plan will make unnecessary the passage of any heavy taxes on natural resources which is badly needed to pay off the 16 million dollar growing deficit in the treasury at this time.

IN TRUCK LEGISLATION

Any change in existing Texas truck laws which will increase the present 7,000-pound load limit will affect adversely all communities in the state, both rural and urban. This statement is proved best by identifying the causes and effects upon Texas communities.

These are:

1. Increasing truck loads mean correspondingly increasing the distance which the truck can profitably carry its load.

2. Increasing the distance of profitable truck haul means bringing the small town wholesale houses and industrial plants, such as wholesale grocers, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators, cotton compresses and retail lumber yards, into direct competition with similar establishments in large cities.

3. Such competition will inevitably result in further drying up the small country towns by taking from them the payrolls, taxes and local purchases represented by their present establishments. Property values, both residential and commercial, will decline; volume of retail sales will grow smaller and former employees will migrate to the cities to reinforce the ranks of the unemployed and the bread lines.

4. Large cities, at first stimulated by increased trade territories, bought at the expense of the country towns, will be ultimately affected adversely because of the resulting unhealthy condition of the rural communities forming these trade territories.

5. Because of the consequent shrinkage of the state's tax revenues from country towns, taxes from the cities will have to be increased correspondingly.

6. The lower truck load limit of Texas now has the effect of acting as a barrier at Texas borders to the movement of the larger truck loads carrying merchandise from the metropolitan and producing centers of other states. Any increase in Texas truck load limits will break down that barrier and permit the free truck movement into the state of many commodities which unquestionably would be sold directly to the retailers, thus destroying, in a large measure, the business of wholesalers and jobbers now located in Texas cities.

Conditions which affect adversely the well-being of Texas communities also affect Texas railroads in identical manner and degree.
